

Dmitri Gerchikov is an Executive Director, Product Management, for Jones Lang LaSalle. In this role, he is responsible for entire lifecycle of product management in the area of Space Data Management and Utilization.

Dmitri is an experienced workplace management professional and holds a Masters of Corporate Real Estate (MCR) and Senior Leader of Corporate Real Estate (SLCR).

He has over 20 years of experience in workplace management and CRE/workplace technology, providing consultative services in portfolio management, strategy and optimization analytics to support multiple industries.

Dmitri brings a focused approach to service delivery, and integration of business requirements into client-centered real estate solutions. His strengths help Jones Lang LaSalle deliver services to clients ranging in size and complexity from Fortune 100 to a local municipality.

Dmitri is a member of CoreNet Global and the International Facility Management Association (IFMA).