

Wayne Berger

Wayne Berger is the CEO of IWG Americas: United States, Canada and Latin America, the global flexspace and workspace-as-a-service leader. The company harnesses the power of flexible working through its companies Regus, Spaces, No. 18, Open Office, HQ, and Signature. IWG currently operates over 1200 coworking and flexible workspace locations throughout the Americas, and over 3500 locations across 1200 cities globally.

Wayne is a key driver and enabler for the transforming world of work. With over 20 years in multi-national executive leadership positions helping companies improve the way they maximize their financial performance, workspace and office portfolio, leadership, and communities, Wayne is leading the acceleration of the workplace revolution— evolving from traditional office space to the new era of hybrid working strategies supported by the world's largest global physical and digital network of flexible workspace. Follow Wayne Berger @wayneberger.

